This Professional Services Agreement ("Agreement "), for legal representation on ____ brought forth against the Defendant, made and entered into this ____ day of ____, 2023, by and between the CITY, a Washington municipal corporation ("City"), and XXX ("Contractor"). The City and Contractor (together "Parties") are located and do business at the below addresses which shall be valid for any notice required under this Agreement:

CONTRACTOR:	CITY

The Parties agree as follows:

1. DEFINITIONS.

- A. Attorney. Attorney shall mean attorneys working for XXX, and where appropriate shall include Rule 9 interns.
- B. Case. A case is defined as the filing of a document with the court naming a person as defendant or respondent, to which an attorney is appointed in order to provide representation. In courts of limited jurisdiction multiple citations from the same incident can be counted as one case. Cases reassigned to another conflict public defender or cases in which a defendant hires a private attorney for representation shall not be counted as a case.
- C. Contractor. Contractor shall mean XXX and shall mean each attorney working for the Contractor when approved by the City.
- D. Defendant. Defendant shall mean a person charged with a misdemeanor or gross misdemeanor offense that is filed into the CITY COURT, and for whom the Contractor must provide services pursuant to Section III of this Agreement.

2. TERM. The term of this agreement shall be from ____ to December 31, 2023 unless terminated or extended. The contract may be extended for additional consecutive one (1) year terms at the mutual agreement of the parties, not to exceed a total of 3 years. In no event will the Contract become effective unless and until it is approved and executed by the duly authorized representative of the City of Bremerton.

3. SERVICES. The Contractor shall perform the services more specifically described in Attachment "A", attached hereto, and incorporated by this reference ("Services"), in a manner consistent with the accepted professional practices for other similar services within Washington State in effect at the time those services are performed, and performed to the City's satisfaction. In addition to the other warranties contained in Services the Contractor warrants that it has the requisite training, skill, and experience necessary to provide the Services and is appropriately accredited and licensed by all applicable agencies and governmental entities. Services shall begin immediately upon the effective date of this Agreement. Services shall be subject, at all times, to inspection by and approval of the City, but the making (or failure or delay in making) such inspection or approval shall not relieve Contractor of responsibility for performance of the Services in accordance with this Agreement, notwithstanding the City's knowledge of defective or non-complying performance, its substantiality, or ease of its discovery.

- A. Personnel. The contractor shall have and maintain complete responsibility for its Personnel. "Personnel" means Contractor and Contractor's employees, subcontractors, volunteers, interns, agents, and any other person utilized by the Contractor directly or indirectly or through third parties to performing any Services under this Contract. The Contractor shall promptly remove any Personnel performing Services on request from the City representative.

- B. Standards. The Contractor warrants that i) Contractor has the qualifications, knowledge, experience, skills and resources necessary to provide all Services; ii) all Services shall be provided by Personnel experienced in their respective fields and in a manner consistent with the standards of care, skill, diligence and knowledge commonly possessed and exercised by experience professionals in the same discipline in the same or similar circumstances; and iii) all Services shall be performed to the City's reasonable satisfaction and according to the schedule agreed upon by the parties. The Contractor agrees to the most current standards required by CrR 3.1/CrRLJ 3.1/ JuCR 9.2/MPR 2.1 and included in this agreement as Attachment D.

4. TERMINATION. The City may terminate this Agreement immediately if the Contractor fails to maintain required insurance policies, breaches confidentiality or materially violates Section 13; and such may result in ineligibility for further City agreements.

For Cause. This agreement may be terminated for good cause for violation of any material term of this agreement. "Material term" shall include any violation indicating a failure to provide representation in accordance with the rules of court, the ethical obligations established by the Washington State Bar Association, the willful disregard of the rights and best interests of the client, a willful violation of the Standards for Indigent Defense as adopted by the Washington State Supreme Court (hereinafter the "Standards") or the Wilbur, et al v. Mt. Vernon, et al (hereinafter the "Decision"), the provisions of Section 7 relating to insurance, conviction of a criminal charge, and/or a finding that the license of the Attorney or any Contractor providing service under this agreement has been suspended or revoked. Any violation of the other provisions of this Contract shall be subject to cure. Written notice of contract violation shall be provided to the Contractor who shall have thirty (30) business days to cure the violation. Failure to correct the violation will give rise to termination for cause at the City's discretion. In lieu of terminating this contract, the City may agree in writing to alternative corrective measures.

Without Cause. Either party may terminate this Agreement at any time without cause upon giving the non-terminating party not less than one hundred twenty (120) days prior written notice. The parties may agree in writing to terminate this contract at any time. Unless otherwise agreed to in writing, termination or expiration of this contract does not affect any existing obligation or liability of either party.

Obligations survive Termination. In the event of termination of this agreement, the following obligations shall survive and continue:

Representation. The compensation established in this agreement compensates the Contractor for services relating to each and every assigned case. Therefore, in the event this agreement is terminated, the Contractor will continue to represent clients on previously assigned cases until a case is concluded at the trial court level or the defendant fails to appear and a warrant issues. For the purposes of this contract the term " concluded" is defined as "the Court has accepted a proposed resolution, including the entry of a plea, diversion agreement (PDA), stipulated order of continuance (SOC), veteran' s court, deferred prosecution, and specifically excluding post-resolution status."

For those matters set for trial within sixty (60) calendar days of the final Agreement date, through trial of the failure or the defendant to appear (FTA) for trial, or

For all other matters, for a period of thirty (30) days, provided, however, that if the defendant fails to appear (FTA) for a court appearance, the Contractor may seek to withdraw following the FTA.

The provisions of Attachment "A" and sections 6 and 7 below, as well as this subsection 4.3 (Obligations survive Termination) survive termination as to the Contractor. The City shall remain bound by the provisions of section 3 of Attachment "B" with respect to additional costs incurred with respect to cases concluded after the termination of this contract.

If the public defender, in his/her/their discretion, deems it in the client's best interest to appeal, the appeal shall be treated as a separate case for an additional payment under Attachment A. Continued representation of a client in post-conviction or other proceedings before the court relating to the initial charges but following conclusion at the trial court level shall also be treated as a separate case and subject to an additional payment in accordance with Attachment B.

5. COMPENSATION.

Amount. The total compensation to be paid to the Contractor shall be included in Attachment B. The maximum amount of compensation paid under the Contract by the City shall not exceed Thirty-Thousand Dollars, ($30,000.00). If the Services do not meet the requirements of this Agreement, the Contractor will correct or modify the work to comply with the Agreement. The City may withhold payment for such work until the work meets the requirements of the Agreement. The Contractor shall be paid based on the proposed compensation. Unless otherwise specified in this Agreement, any payment shall be considered timely if a check is mailed or is available within 30 days of the date of actual receipt by the City of an invoice conforming in all respects to the terms of this agreement.

6. CHANGES.

This contract may be renegotiated at the option of either party if the Washington State Supreme Court, the Washington Bar Association or the City significantly modifies the Standards for Indigent Defense adopted pursuant to the Court rule or City Ordinance/Resolution. All changes must be in writing and agreed upon by both parties.

7. INDEMNIFICATION.

A. Vendor shall defend, indemnify and hold the City, its officers, officials, employees, agents and volunteers harmless from any and all claims, injuries, damages, losses or suits, including all legal costs and attorney fees, arising out of or in connection with the performance of this Agreement except for that portion of the injuries and damages caused by the City's sole negligence, unless Vendor is conducting work pursuant to Subsection B below.

CrR 3.1 STANDARDS FOR INDIGENT DEFENSE

Preamble

The Washington Supreme Court adopts the following Standards to address certain basic elements of public defense practice related to the effective assistance of counsel. The Certification of Appointed Counsel of Compliance with Standards Required by CrR 3.1/ CrRLJ 3.1/JuCR 9.2/ MPR 2.1 references specific “Applicable Standards.” The Court adopts additional Standards beyond those required for certification as guidance for public defense attorneys in addressing issues identified in State v. A.N.J., 168 Wn.2d 91 (2010), including the suitability of contracts that public defense attorneys may negotiate and sign. To the extent that certain Standards may refer to or be interpreted as referring to local governments, the Court recognizes the authority of its Rules is limited to attorneys and the courts. Local courts and clerks are encouraged to develop protocols for procedures for receiving and retaining Certifications.

[Adopted effective October 1, 2012; Amended effective February 1, 2021.]

Standard 1. Compensation

[RESERVED]

Standard 2. Duties and Responsibilities of Counsel

[RESERVED]

Standard 3. Caseload Limits and Types of Cases

Standard 3.1. The contract or other employment agreement shall specify the types of cases for which representation shall be provided and the maximum number of cases which each attorney shall be expected to handle.

[Adopted effective October 1, 2012.]

Standard 3.2. The caseload of public defense attorneys shall allow each lawyer to give each client the time and effort necessary to ensure effective representation. Neither defender organizations, city offices, contract attorneys, nor assigned counsel should accept workloads that, by reason of their excessive size, interfere with the rendering of quality representation. As used in this Standard, “quality representation” is intended to describe the minimum level of attention, care, and skill that Washington citizens would expect of their state’s criminal justice system.

[Adopted effective October 1, 2012.]

Standard 3.3. General Considerations. Caseload limits reflect the maximum caseloads for fully supported full-time defense attorneys for cases of average complexity and effort in each case type specified. Caseload limits assume a reasonably even distribution of cases throughout the year.

The increased complexity of practice in many areas will require lower caseload limits. The maximum caseload limit should be adjusted downward when the mix of case assignments is weighted toward offenses or case types that demand more investigation, legal research and writing, use of experts, use of social workers, or other expenditures of time and resources.

Attorney caseloads should be assessed by the workload required, and cases and types of cases should be weighted accordingly.

If a defender or assigned counsel is carrying a mixed caseload including cases from more than one category of cases, these standards should be applied proportionately to determine a full caseload. In jurisdictions where assigned counsel or contract attorneys also maintain private law practices, the caseload should be based on the percentage of time the lawyer devotes to public defense.

The experience of a particular attorney is a factor in the composition of the case types in the attorney's caseload, but it is not a factor in adjusting the applicable numerical caseload limits except as follows: attorneys with less than six months of full-time criminal defense experience as an attorney should not be assigned more than two-thirds of the applicable maximum numerical caseload limit. This provision applies whether or not the public defense system uses case weighting.

The following types of cases fall within the intended scope of the caseload limits for criminal and juvenile offender cases in standard 3.4 and must be taken into account when assessing an attorney's numerical caseload: partial case representations, sentence violations, specialty or therapeutic courts, transfers, extraditions, representation of material witnesses, petitions for conditional release or final discharge, and other matters that do not involve a new criminal charge.

Definition of case. A case is defined as the filing of a document with the court naming a person as defendant or respondent, to which an attorney is appointed in order to provide representation. In courts of limited jurisdiction multiple citations from the same incident can be counted as one case.

[Adopted effective October 1, 2012; Amended effective January 1, 2015.]

Standard 3.4. Caseload Limits. The caseload of a full-time public defense attorney or assigned counsel should not exceed the following:

150 felonies per attorney per year; or

300 misdemeanor cases per attorney per year or, in jurisdictions that have not adopted a numerical case weighting system as described in this standard, 400 cases per year; or

250 juvenile offender cases per attorney per year; or 80

open juvenile dependency cases per attorney; or 250 civil commitment cases per attorney per year; or

1 active death penalty trial court case at a time plus a limited number of non-death-penalty cases compatible with the time demand of the death penalty case and consistent with the professional requirements of standard 3.2; or

36 appeals to an appellate court hearing a case on the record and briefs per attorney per year. (The 36 standard assumes experienced appellate attorneys handling cases with transcripts of an average length of 350 pages. If attorneys do not have significant appellate experience and/or the average transcript length is greater than 350 pages, the caseload should be accordingly reduced.)

Full-time rule 9 interns who have not graduated from law school may not have caseloads that exceed twenty-five percent (25%) of the caseload limits established for full-time attorneys.

In public defense systems in which attorneys are assigned to represent groups of clients at first appearance or arraignment calendars without an expectation of further or continuing representation for cases that are not resolved at the time (except by dismissal) in addition to individual case assignments, the attorneys' maximum caseloads should be reduced proportionally recognizing that preparing for and appearing at such calendars requires additional attorney time. This provision applies both to systems that employ case weighting and those that do not.

Resolutions of cases by pleas of guilty to criminal charges on a first appearance or arraignment docket are presumed to be rare occurrences requiring careful evaluation of the evidence and the law, as well as thorough communication with clients, and must be counted as one case. This provision applies both to systems that employ case weighting and those that do not.

In public defense systems in which attorneys are assigned to represent groups of clients in routine review hearing calendars in which there is no potential for the imposition of sanctions, the attorneys' maximum caseloads should be reduced proportionally by the amount of time they spend preparing for and appearing at such calendars. This provision applies whether or not the public defense system uses case weighting.

[Adopted effective October 1, 2013, except paragraph 3, regarding misdemeanor caseload limits, effective January 1, 2015; Amended effective January 1, 2015.]

Standard 3.5. Case Counting and Weighting. Attorneys may not count cases using a case weighting system, unless pursuant to written policies and procedures that have been adopted and published by the local government entity responsible for employing, contracting with, or appointing them. A weighting system must:

A. recognize the greater or lesser workload required for cases compared to an average case based on a method that adequately assesses and documents the workload involved;

B. be consistent with these Standards, professional performance guidelines, and the Rules of Professional Conduct;

C. not institutionalize systems or practices that fail to allow adequate attorney time for quality representation;

D. be periodically reviewed and updated to reflect current workloads; and

E. be filed with the State of Washington Office of Public Defense.

Cases should be assessed by the workload required. Cases and types of cases should be weighted accordingly. Cases which are complex, serious, or contribute more significantly to attorney workload than average cases should be weighted upward. In addition, a case weighting system should consider factors that might justify a case weight of less than one case.

[Adopted effective October 1, 2012; Amended effective January 1, 2015.]

Standard 3.6. Case Weighting Examples. The following are some examples of situations where case weighting might result in representations being weighted as more or less than one case. The listing of specific examples is not intended to suggest or imply that representations in such situations should or must be weighted at more or less than one case, only that they may be, if established by an appropriately adopted case weighting system.

A. Case Weighting Upward. Serious offenses or complex cases that demand more-than-average investigation, legal research, writing, use of experts, use of social workers, and/or expenditures of time and resources should be weighted upward and counted as more than one case.

B. Case Weighting Downward. Listed below are some examples of situations where case weighting might justify representations being weighted less than one case. However, care must be taken because many such representations routinely involve significant work and effort and should be weighted at a full case or more.

i. Cases that result in partial representations of clients, including client failures to appear and recommencement of proceedings, preliminary appointments in cases in which no charges are filed, appearances of retained counsel, withdrawals or transfers for any reason, or limited appearances for a specific purpose (not including representations of multiple cases on routine dockets).

ii. Cases in the criminal or offender case type that do not involve filing of new criminal charges, including sentence violations, extraditions, representations of material witnesses, and other matters or representations of clients that do not involve new criminal charges. Noncomplex sentence violations should be weighted as at least 1/3 of a case.

iii. Cases in specialty or therapeutic courts if the attorney is not responsible for defending the client against the underlying charges before or after the client's participation in the specialty or therapeutic court. However, case weighting must recognize that numerous hearings and extended monitoring of client cases in such courts significantly contribute to attorney workload and in many instances such cases may warrant allocation of full case weight or more.

iv. Representation of a person in a court of limited jurisdiction on a charge which, as a matter of regular practice in the court where the case is pending, can be and is resolved at an early stage of the proceeding by a diversion, reduction to an infraction, stipulation on continuance, or other alternative noncriminal disposition that does not involve a finding of guilt. Such cases should be weighted as at least 1/3 of a case.
